JOHN WILSON AND SON, CAMBRIDGE.

P R E F A C E.

THE collection of facts to illustrate the part taken in the war of 1861-1865 by Students of Harvard College or of other departments of the University, was begun as early as 1862. The first "roll of honor," as it was the custom of that day to call such lists, was printed in the "Boston Courier" in March of the last-named year, and more extended lists were published in the triennial catalogues of 1866 and 1869. The Corporation and the Committee of Fifty appointed to build Memorial Hall have constantly had in mind, however, a fuller and more satisfactory record, which should include not only those who died in the service, but also those who offered themselves to the country, yet whose lives were spared.

To this end the Committee of Fifty appointed from their number a Sub-Committee, consisting of Mr. Waldo Higginson, President Charles W. Eliot, Dr. Robert W. Hooper, Professor Francis J. Child, and Mr. Charles E. Guild; and at their first meeting this Sub-Committee invited Dr. Francis H. Brown, of Boston, to collect materials and to edit the work.

The task assigned to Dr. Brown by the Committee has been by no means an easy one. He has found it necessary to conduct an extensive correspondence with the Alumni themselves, with their friends, with the Class-secretaries, and with many others ; to extort facts from many who deemed their own part in the struggle of too little importance to be chronicled ; and to put the results into a permanent form. He has endeavored to include the names of all Students and Graduates who served in the Union Army or Navy, believing that the record would show how much credit was due in each case, and that the labors, wounds, or death of so-called acting officers, and of those who engaged to serve for the shorter terms, were as properly matter of record as the longer and more arduous services of others.

The Author would gladly mention the names of very many persons who have assisted him in his work. He cannot omit to acknowledge his indebtedness to the late John Langdon Sibley, Librarian Emeritus of the University, to Ex-President Thomas Hill, Mr. Waldo Higginson, Dr. Samuel Abbott Green, Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson, author of "The Harvard Memorial Biographies," and Mr. Thomas J. Kiernan, of the University Library.

MUSTERED OUT 15 JAN., 1866.

While in the service Gen. Force lost but one wagon, — that was by the breaking of a pontoon-bridge over the Wateree River ; he did not lose a gun, his command was never surprised, never thrown into confusion, and never yielded under fire. In no instance did he fail to hold a position he was ordered to hold, or to carry a position he was ordered to carry.

The names of the following eight men were given to Dr. H. I. Bowditch in 1866 as having been engaged in the service of the United States during the War. They are not found in the Annual Catalogues or in the matriculation books of the Medical School. It is believed, however, that the men were temporarily members of the School, and that they left for the purpose of entering the service before their names were enrolled as actual students.
